ABOUT AMANDA

Amanda is a surface designer and author/illustrator known for her cheerful designs and nature-inspired illustrations. With a passion for creativity and storytelling, she hopes to bring joy and inspiration to people of all ages.

As a surface designer, Amanda's art has been sold to and licensed by companies such as Target, Hobby Lobby, and Home Goods. Her work can be found on various products, from textiles and stationery to home decor and accessories.

Amanda is the author of multiple art education books, and is an emerging children's book author/illustrator. Her picture books are characterized by heart-felt, positive messages and vibrant artwork, inspired by the beauty of nature.

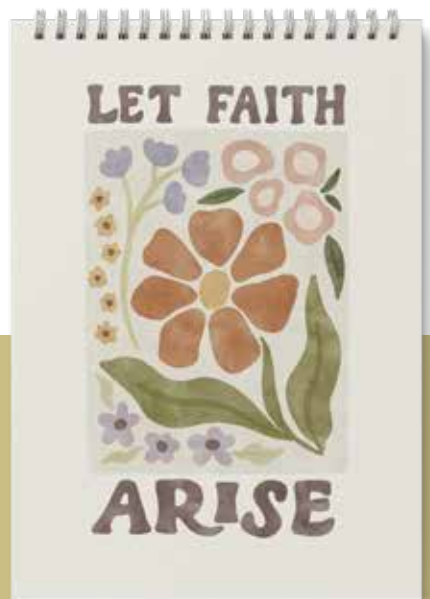

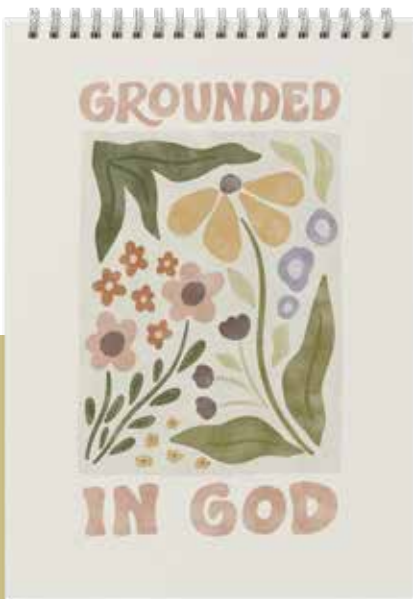

When she's not creating, Amanda enjoys spending time with her family, gardening, or trying out a new recipe in the kitchen.

Amanda hopes to inspire joy, and encourage others through hope-filled, uplifting words and art.
